A Bigger Prize turns that assumption on its head. Not only does Heffernan provide evidence that competition is not as productive as it is often touted to be, she also provides inspiring examples that show what has already been accomplished As an undergrad enrolled in Game Theory class, there was a lot of talk about competition vs. cooperation.

A Bigger Prize: Why Competition Isn't Everything and How ...

A Bigger Prize (2014) explains how competition is holding us back. These blinks demonstrate how our competitive schools, economy and society — believed to produce higher grades, lower prices and better results — are actually stifling collaboration and preventing us from realizing our full potential.

A Bigger Prize by Margaret Heffernan - Blinkist

The thesis of A Bigger Prize, which bears the clunky subtitle "Why competition isn't everything and how we do better", is that we are gripped by a "quasi-religious fervor to compete". Even though Darwin scholars can't agree whether Darwin himself would have been a social Darwinian, we accept that nature seems to provide a
