The desire to learn is often related to the concept of 'motivation'. Motivation is the most used concept for explaining the failure or success of a language learner. Second language refers to a language an individual learns that is not his/her mother tongue, but is of use in the area of the individual. It is not the same as a foreign language, which is a language learned that is not generally spoken in the individual's area. In research on motivation, it is considered to be an

Language Learning
plays a key role in second or foreign language learning. Extensive research confirms that motivation becomes one of the determining factors of second or foreign language learning success (Bradford, 2007; Dörnyei, 1998; Engin, 2009). However, motivation in learning a second or foreign language is not as simple as we think since motivation is complex and has a 'multifaceted nature' (Dörnyei, 1998 p.118).
